Salvation Army Looks After the Needy and the Sick.

DINNER AT THE SHELTER.

Tables Groaned Under the Bounteous Feast—140 Boxes of Supplies For Families.

The Salvation Army shelter on Franklin avenue has been the scene of much liveliness, bustle and preparation of some days past and the climax was reached today between 12 and 3 o'clock, when upwards of 150 men were seated at tables arranged for the occasion and supplied bounteously with everything from turkey to plum pudding that has made Thanksgiving dinners famous. Everyone who came was served as readily and well as possible and none of them were not perfectly satisfied that they had eaten enough for one Thanksgiving. The big dinner went off quietly and smoothly. Staff Captain W. P. Wood, and his assistants, who made careful arrangements for the accommodation of all who were expected to be present. Captain Wood said that he was most pleased with the way in which everything connected with the dinner had been carried out. "The tables in this city have been provided with Thanksgiving dinner. For several years things have been sent in to us as residents of the city, and we have distributed 320 and 140 boxes containing supplies for families ranging from one to nine persons, yesterday. We were supplied with the necessities in need of some assistance and sent out to all that by calling they could secure boxes of eatables. It is a blessing to many, for each box contained enough for more than one meal and was well prepared. We have been very successful this year, and feel all satisfied with the result. The prisoners who have aided us have been extremely liberal and kind."

PRISONERS WERE BOUNTEOUSLY FED

The prisoners at the county jail had a special dinner today at the expense of a sheriff. There were turkeys, chicken, roast pork, mashed potatoes, celery, cranberry sauce, pie, cake, oranges, apples and bananas, not to say anything of bread, butter and coffee. The Christian Scientists and Methodists also contributed a goodly show of fruit to the feast, and every prisoner ate, drank and made merry. Van Kuren and his wife alone in their own cells. Previous to the Thanksgiving feast, small coterie of Christian Scientists visited the prisoners to a song and prayer service. Miss Wheeler was the toast of the party, and sang "Just

Pain in Stomach

It has been said that a healthy person doesn't know he has a stomach. How unhealthy the dyspeptic must be!

He feels as if he were all stomach, and one thing that makes him feel so is that pain at the pit of the stomach—sometimes an "all-gone feeling," sometimes a "burning sensation."

"I suffered from pains in my stomach and could not eat. An old gentleman told me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and after the use of four bottles I gained my appetite, and I was soon completely cured, so that now I feel like a new man. On no account would I be without Hood's Sarsaparilla in my house." HENRY CALLEN, 71 Commercial St., Portland, Me.

"I had to be careful what I ate or I would suffer terrible pains from indigestion. Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I can eat anything that anyone can eat without pain. My son, who was run down and had no appetite, was cured by this medicine." Mrs. Amy A. White, North Harrison St., Council Bluffs, Iowa.

for Today in a sweet soprano, which entirely won the hearts of the prisoners. "Three Every Hour," "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and other hymns, were joined in by the prisoners, and two of the prisoners read a number of appropriate passages from the Bible.

Jailor Thomas did the honors at the dinner and saw that every one of the prisoners had enough to eat.

AT STATE PRISON.

Warden Dow at the State prison performed the function of a hotel proprietor today and rendered many hearty and stomachs full of gratitude and turkey. The very choice food that has served honored duty for Thanksgiving since the day was founded, was given without stint to the unfortunate occupants of the penitentiary. Men who have nothing to look forward to but the "eking out of their existences in the prison, who will never pass beyond their outer walls into the world through its outer door, and who will again have their liberty almost before the savor of the turkey has left their palates. After the sumptuous dinner, which they all relished to a pathetic degree, they were regaled on beautiful music and recitations under the direction of Miss Nora Gleason.

INFIRMARY DINNER.

Supt. Jones Gives the Inmates a Feast of Fat Things.

With flowers decorating the tables and the menu including turkey, cranberry sauce, potatoes, green corn, celery, apples, figs, candy, nuts and pumpkin pie, Supt. Jones of the county infirmary was the proud host at a fine Thanksgiving spread prepared for the inmates of that institution. Between 90 and 100 persons sat down to the feast, and it was glorious to see the child-like enjoyment of the old people.

"This reminds me of the last Thanksgiving dinner I had at John's house before he died, poor lad!" or "Do you remember, father, when Will asked us up to his house to eat Thanksgiving dinner?" were characteristic expressions delivered in quivering voice. The poor old dears would have shed tears, but the drying process of time had left the windows of their souls without that relieving lotion. While this like York all transpire content to know that the otherwise cold and pitiless world has a warm spot in its heart which prompts the founding of such institutions for the aged and which produces guardians who love to see their happiness. "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

NEW ORGAN SHIPPED.

The new organ of St. Paul's Episcopal church has been shipped from Chicago, and should reach this city the last of this week. So the instrument will be ready for use at the Christmas services.

MAY GO TO FORT CROOK.

Members of L and K companies, Eighteenth Infantry, expressed the belief today that as their commands had never been assigned to any other station than Fort Huachuca, that they would be ordered before long to Fort Crook, and in fact they thought their entire battalion would be sent there, for permanent station.

BUSINESS NOTES.

Samuel H. Auerbach has returned home after an absence since July spent in Europe and New York with his family. He expressed himself as having had a most enjoyable trip. While in New York he transacted some business for his dry goods firm and says that trade conditions in Salt Lake are very gratifying so far as he can judge from reports received by him and the statements made by New York business men which were complimentary in a high degree to local merchants.

It is announced by Jesse M. Smith that the Utah-Idaho sheepmen and cattlemen will not go to the Chicago convention of the National association in a body as mentioned before. The change in the plans is consequent to the fact that the Idaho men wish to go over the Short Line and the local delegation is not united, some wishing to go over the Rio Grande Western. Mr. Smith said last evening that he thinks not more than thirty Utah cattle and sheepmen will go to the convention. The round trip fare on either line is $14.00.

The new Elks' building is being erected with all possible speed. The brick work is already finished to between the second and third stories, and in a few weeks the building will be under roof. The State street front will be very handsome.

The ore and bullion settlements in this city yesterday amounted to $38,300.

The continued fine weather has been of great advantage to local contractors and builders who are pushing the work of construction on the new Elks' building, now in course of erection, to completion as rapidly as possible.

PEOPLE WHO ARE PASSING

Dr. J. H. Hepburn, assistant surgeon, U. S. A., has arrived from Fort Apache and taken station at Fort Douglas, where he will remain for the present.

James C. Houston of Carson, Nev., is a delightful gentleman to meet. He is stopping at the Cullen and when approached by a reporter for some intelligence, he abruptly closed his door and said in a low voice that he had no news to give reporters. Newspaper men were warned afterwards at the hotel counter that the gentleman in "43" had a cold in readiness for the next reporter that called at his room. It is pleasant to meet people of so charming a disposition.

J. C. Kline, a member of the King of the Opium Ring company, stopping at the Mantou, is an able artist with pen and ink. He has just completed drawing a full page of the hotel register with a wild west design, the central figure of which is an old Indian chief. The guests at the hotel think Mr. Kline could make his fortune as a decorator and designer.

General Agent Donald Rose of the Illinois Central, has returned from a trip to Butte and Helena. He said it was turning winter when he returned leaving two inches of snow on the ground. Mr. Rose remarked that there was considerable excitement in Helena over the finding of a vein of gold running under the town, through excavating for the new federal building, and there is considerable local prospecting. However, Uncle Sam does not want the mine and has proposed to sell it and remove the government building site to some other location. Mr. Rose met a large section of the traveling passenger men on route east from the Los Angeles meeting and who took the northern route instead of the middle transcontinental. At Butte, Mr. Rose found business remarkably active, with every indication of good times the coming season.

Traveling Freight Agent I. N. Fulton, of the Short Line, returned yesterday from a northern trip. He says there are unmistakable evidences of prosperity along the Short Line in Idaho, as elsewhere. There are a great many small shipments made, as the time has gone by for live stock shipments, and the season for heavy and time shipments has not yet arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Aldrich have arrived from Clear Lake and are registered at the White House. Mr. Aldrich has as great faith as ever in the future of the country around Clear Lake, and with the tide of immigration continuing, and the restoration of the big lake, that part of Millard county is destined to grow and wax fat.

James F. Shields, the well known and popular traveling man, arrived this morning, from Syracuse, N. Y., and wrote his column on the Knutsford register in "a bold, round, clearly hand," as English papers of the last century would have put it. Mr. Shields was greatly shocked to learn of the deadly assault on his friend, W. S. Haynes, the day before, and went right up to the hospital to see him. James has not been in Salt Lake for some time, and says it seems like home to get back here. If there is one thing more than another which he dislikes, it is to see his picture in the papers, and for a long time kept the manager of the "Tribune Art Gallery" jumping sideways to get one of him. Finally the artist of the paper managed to sketch James when he wasn't looking, and the next morning, every guest at the hotel took particular pains to bring Mr. Shields a copy of the paper with original remarks.

HEWLETT BROS. CO.

When asked this morning what he thought of the reports in the morning papers about new batteries coming to this post, he replied that it must be a mistake, as there are already two batteries at Fort Douglas, and there is no room there for any more troops. He expected that the gun equipment for the Twenty-second battery would be received next week, and that the horses for both batteries would be received early in the month. Dr. Hewlett said that the gun equipment for the Twenty-first Infantry in the Philippines and does not believe that the natives will be any more than the United States years from now than they are now. He says the Chinese are rushing into the islands, and that the bulk of the business transacted there is by "Chinese" Germans. The mestizos are the best class of natives, and in fact one only finds the genuine native back in the mountains.

Under the head of "Snapshots," the Los Angeles Herald, in a recent date, gave a full column write-up of Knutsford Holmes, of the Knutsford hotel in this city and of the Angelus in Los Angeles. The article is written by W. J. Knutsford, who spent some time in this city last spring writing up the town for a special edition of the Los Angeles Herald. The article is accompanied by a very good cut of Mr. Holmes, and gives a very creditable resume of his hotel work, his push, his energy and his success. The Angelus is described at considerable length.

Sam Hutchinson, general excursion agent of the Union Pacific and Chicago & North Western, is a guest at the Knutsford on route of a business trip to the coast. Mr. Hutchinson was formerly assistant general passenger agent of the Union Pacific at Denver and has been a newspaper man for the coast points. He says that the coast points are in a congested condition already, and that the great rush for the coast will be for the coming season. At the same time there is the convention of Women's club members for next May; the meeting of the Knutsford in June, the Knights of Pythias in July, and then comes the meeting of the Elks in Salt Lake City in August. Mr. Hutchinson expects there will be a greater rush for the coast this winter than there was last, and the rush then strained local resources pretty well to cover for the crowds.

Chief Devine did not say whether or not he would remain if the salary was not increased, and he did not say what he thought the salary should be. He said: "So far as I know, my administration of the office of chief of the fire department is in perfect harmony with the wishes of the mayor; but no man in his prime, with a family to support and with opportunities of advancement, can afford to tie himself down with a salary of $125 a month. The salaries of the fire chiefs in other cities in the same class as Salt Lake are from $250 to $4,000, and living in Salt Lake is fully 25 per cent higher than in many of these other cities.

"The salary of this office," Chief Devine continued, "was formerly $2,000, then it was cut to $1,800, and finally, under the Glendinning regime, it was cut to $1,500. But that is not all the cutting that has been done. The chief was made inspector of the city's street lamps at $15 a month; but two years ago these two offices were merged, and since then I have received no compensation for inspecting the street lamps."

STOLE AN UMBRELLA.

Paddy Ryan Again in the Toils for Stealing.

Paddy Ryan, who says he is a sailor, was arrested this morning by Officer Chase on the charge of stealing an umbrella from a second hand store on East Second South street. The theft occurred last night. Yesterday afternoon Judge Ditch saw the man one hour to get out of town. He went to Murray and had hardly secured a foothold there before he was ordered to leave. Officer Chase saw the man running along Second South this morning and concluded to stop the fellow. The officer made a low tackle and held his man made down. Ryan said some one had accused him of stealing an umbrella.

"Well you gave yourself dead away," remarked Chase as he marched the fellow off to jail. He was booked with the charge of petit larceny and will have a hearing tomorrow afternoon.

NOBLE BEQUEST FOR AGED MINERS

Mrs. Judge Desires to Erect a Memorial to Deceased Husband.

HOME MAY COST $100,000.

Writes a Letter to Bishop Scanlan Upon the Subject, Setting Forth Her Desires.

Mrs. Judge has in a letter to Bishop Scanlan made a noble bequest in endowing a home for aged and infirm miners, which will prove a blessing to all who follow the precarious occupation of widdling the pick and the shovel in the search for precious metals. Mrs. Judge requests that the institution shall be conducted solely under the management of the bishop, and that it shall be run along the lines of the broadest Christianity. The choice of a site for the institution has been left to Bishop Scanlan and Father Kiely, but it is understood that one of the main lines of property owned by the Catholic church will be selected.

MRS. JUDGE'S LETTER.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 27, 1901.

RI. Lawrence Scanlan, Roman Catholic Bishop of Salt Lake—Dear Bishop Scanlan—As a memorial to my deceased husband, I desire to establish a home for aged and infirm miners and a hospital where the unfortunate may receive proper medical and surgical treatment, to be conducted under your management and control.

You may proceed with the necessary arrangements to that end and draw on me for all expenditures in connection therewith. Sincerely yours,

MARY JUDGE.

The above is a copy of the letter written by Mrs. Mary Judge to Bishop Scanlan, in which she makes a noble bequest to the Catholic church to build a home for aged and infirm miners at her expense.

Asked whether the home would be exclusively for Catholic miners the bishop replied: "Charity knows no distinctions. This institution will be for all who need the good offices, the generosity of the donor, has made possible. It is Thanksgiving day. It may have been in Mrs. Judge's mind to make the donation at this time to afford occasion for thanking to many to whom the days bring ill of joy. It would be but poor philanthropy to single out those who may and those who may not share in the benefits of this noble bequest."

It is understood that the home will cost between $50,000 and $100,000. Building will not be commenced till spring.

The news of the founding of the new home will carry cheer to miners all over the state.

CHIEF DEVINE MAY RESIGN.

Read of Fire Department Thinks His Salary Too Small.

The probabilities are that unless the salary of Fire Chief Devine is increased he will resign his office. The chief does not positively so state but says the matter has been talked of for some time and that he understands that Mayor Thompson and members of the council are in favor of increasing the salary.

"I will venture the assertion," said Chief Devine this morning, "that 95 per cent of the business men of this city would be in favor of an increase. I think that a salary of $125 per month is very low for a man in my position, and who other men in proper position are paid. In this city the salaries of the fire chiefs in other cities in the same class as Salt Lake are from $250 to $4,000, and living in Salt Lake is fully 25 per cent higher than in many of these other cities.

"The salary of this office," Chief Devine continued, "was formerly $2,000, then it was cut to $1,800, and finally, under the Glendinning regime, it was cut to $1,500. FOUR SCORE PEOPLE KILLED IN COLLISION.

so I presume I could have stopped, but I understood now how it is with these electric headlights—you cannot tell anything about how far away they are. It was on a straightaway track and I thought they were waiting for me at Sand Creek. They doubtless thought we were stopped at Seneca and so both us came on at full speed.

"We must have been running 50 miles an hour when we saw they were on top of us. I saw I must jump. There was a bridge right ahead and I did not want to fall in that so I waited until we were past and fell. There was only a slight embankment and the crash came right after I let go. I rolled fully three rods. When I came to there was my engine on one side of me and the tracks of the second car, which was telescoped, on the other."

SUPT. BURNS TALKS.

Supt. Burns today said that Engineer strong of No. 4 was responsible. "His report," said he, "clearly hid him to the fact that the engine was not stopped for him but he did not stop there and the collision resulted."

Supt. Burns estimated the financial loss to the Washab as $5,000.

ENGINES PILED UP.

The three engines piled themselves in an indiscriminate heap with the leading car of the second engine. The first three coaches of the train were so telescoped that they were not visible but a mass of debris. One immigrant car compressed into a compass about 8 feet in length on the track. The flames started below the immigrant cars and hert the heaviest loss occurred. It being estimated that about fifty per cent of the women and children, were moved down by the holocaust. The loss in the rest of the train was not heavy; the shock being borne by the locomotive.

No. 13, the engine was followed by accommodation car. This was stout and bore the shock bravely. The lead- ing car of the train, however, was teleported and burned. In this were about 50 passengers. The brunt of the early rescue work was done here and probably half of these passengers were rescued or escaped.

Train No. 13 carried twenty-five immigrants from Italy bound for the coal mines at Trinidad, Colo. Not more than half of these escaped. The train was a double-header, drawn by engine No. 88, Engineer Sam J. Work, Fireman David, both of Detroit. The second engine was No. 151, Engineer Robert Parks, Fireman Cal Balford, both of Ashley. Both engineers escaped alive, but their firemen met death. Engineer Work is in great pain from scalding, a broken neck and scalp wounds. He is unable to talk.

WHAT ENGINEER PARKS SAYS.

Engineer Parks, of the rear engine on No. 13 described the collision as follows:

"We had orders to meet train No. 4 at Seneca and were running about thirty miles an hour. The track is straight for several miles and could see the headlight of No. 4 coming until we were about three miles west of Sand Creek. I put on the air brakes and the shock came before I had time to jump."

"The three engines all piled up together. I was thrown through the roof or window of the cab. I don't know straight for several miles and could see the headlight of No. 4 coming until we were about three miles west of Sand Creek. I put on the air brakes and the shock came before I had time to jump."

WHAT WABASH OFFICIALS SAY.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 28.—President Joseph Ramsey Jr., of the Wabash, when seen at the headquarters of that railway here today, said that he had received but few details of the wreck near Seneca.

"The reports we have received, however," said Mr. Ramsey, "show that no more than twenty persons were killed and thirty injured. The latest report received at 9:20 a. m. from Superintendent Burns, who has been at the scene of the wreck since last night gives those figures as the result of his personal investigation. I have always insisted that whenever a wreck occurs on the Wabash the number and names of the dead and injured shall receive the first attention of the official investigating the affair. The property loss and details of the wreck, responsibility, etc., can come later.

"I can not see how the accident occurred as it did, for the track on both sides of Seneca is straightaway, giving every opportunity for men on the front of one train to see the approach of another. A wire from Superintendent Burns states that the track was cleared by 5:35 a. m."

FIGHTING AT BUENA VISTA.

Colon, Colombia, Nov. 28.—The government forces, 300 strong, under Gen. Alban, on reappearing at Buena Vista Wednesday afternoon opened fire on the liberal forces under Col. Paraya. The latter was not entrenched but having the choice of ground occupied the top of a small hill at Buena Vista. The fighting, which was of the most savage nature, lasted until 5.30 p. m. without stopping, when the government forces, owing to the great loss they had sustained, were compelled to give way and retreated towards Frijoles. Over a hundred men were killed or wounded, the bodies lying all along the railroad. A train, on reaching Buena Vista, was unable to pass, owing to a pile of corpses blocking its passage. About 20 wounded men were taken to Panama on the evening train. The liberal loss was insignificant. It is said to be less than a dozen men.

DUTY ON CUBAN SUGAR.

President Will Recommend that it be Reduced.

Washington, Nov. 27.—President Roosevelt, in his message to Congress, will recommend the advisability of reducing the duty on Cuban sugar in return for trade concessions when the independent government in the island is set up, and also the reduction of the duty on sugar from the Philippines as a means of stimulating the production of sugar in those islands. This information the President conveyed to several prominent visitors with whom he talked today.

KAISER A DESCENDANT OF ARPAD

A Budapest journalist named Stefan Michailovits has published an article in a Hungarian newspaper in which he professed to prove that Kaiser Wilhelm is descended from the Magyar chief Arpad, the founder of the Hungarian monarchy, says a correspondent. The information was new to his majesty, who received the cutting of the paper describing the connection between the Hohenzollerns and the House of Arpad; so he handed it over to the chief official of the family archives and the matter will be investigated. It is affirmed by Herr Stefan Michailovits that Kaiser Wilhelm is a descendant of St. Elizabeth of Hungary, and that this lady is of the House of Arpad.

PEOPLE WHO EAT COAL.

Earth eating savages are known to anthropologists, but the statement that there are people in civilized England who habitually swallow lumps of ordinary household coal appears somewhat surprising. To the practice, Mary Ann Foy, a housemaid lately employed at 45 Gloucester Gardens, Hyde Park, owed her death. Some of the places, stated Dr. Harper at the inquest, had stuck in the windpipe and caused suffocation. It was a fact, added the witness, that some persons did eat small portions of coal. The coroner asked with what object. A juror said that persons suffering from severe attacks of heartburn did so. The coroner said that he had heard of persons eating charcoal, but not coal. There was, in the present case, however, no doubt about the fact. "Death from misadventure," was the verdict.—London Express.

$400,000,000

HON. S. B. VAN SANT, GOVERNOR OF MINNESOTA, WHO IS TRYING TO SMASH THE GIANT RAILROAD TRUST.

GOVERNOR VAN SANT is very much in the public eye at present because of his invitation to the governors of the states having anticonsolidation laws similar to those of Minnesota to join in an effort to fight the Northern Securities Company, commonly referred to as the railroad trust, which proposes to combine the Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific railroads under one management, with a capital of $400,000,000.
